Dear Willie, Ben and family 3/10/91

This is a LONG OVERDUE thankyou for your Xmas card and to let you know by the enclosed clipping of our sad news. Since Bill's death I have really been having quita a few problems staggering to the left due to loss of the use of my left leg. Was in a wheel chair when I went out for a month, then on a walker and finally on a cane. After many tests and Dr. visits it has been decided it was a combination of "acute Subconsious Depression" and Diabetic Neuropathy. Guess my dibetes is going easy on my eyes and kidneys and affecting my nerves. At least there is nothing wrong with my brain nor anything affecting it. And I AM much better. Only lose my balance when I get real tired. I lost 25 lbs. and a lot of sleep, with a lot of stress & worry in caring for Bill, so my problems started before he died, but I did ignore them. He was on kidney dialysis for six months, and had been declared legally blind. He could see TV and to get around, but not to read nor drive for over two years. Basically, his heart finally just gave out. It would not have stood surgery to remove a foot (circulation stopped in right leg & toes turned black). He did not lay and suffer much: went from dialysis on Monday evening straight to hospital and died Wednesday morning. He now rests up at Skylawn with Dave & Jan. I am finally finished with almost all the paper work except income tax, and feel like traveling a little bit. Am going to LaVerne (So.CA) for a wedding on 3/21, then after visiting with my brother's family I'm leaving for Indiana on 4/22?& will be gona a month. My writing is terrible and typing not much better! I had written you a long letter which I couldn't even read - and then misplaced. I was interested to know Ben might be doing business out here. Billy lives with me now (came home last April to give me help with Bill.

Well, I messed the card up in the typwriter, but you can still read it, and remove the picture and enjoy it! This is the last of a box of cardinal cards (I collect cardinals) so I wanted you to have it.

Billy works for the SF Newspaper agency since last October, but is still a "Casual" until he gets in so many shifts. So he is looking for part-time work during the week - his shifts on the paper are mostly week-ends, he is assigned thru the union and is not interested in giving it up for anything fulltime, because at the age of 40 he wants to stay in this union for the benefits and ultimate salary on fulltime. He took a test with 80 people from which 24 actually passed (a lot of math, map reading, direction reading, decision-making questions, etc). He and one woman passed the tests with 100%, and 17 actaully graduated from the 6-weeks classes. You know, he sold electronics in San Jose and Oregon for about 12 years, after starting in an electronics firm warehouse, then customer service, then inside sales, finally to outside sales. He knows all this greater bay area like a book, and an awfully lot of people in the electronics industry. I thougut he might be able to offer his skills and sales ability to Ben if Ben would be hiring - at least part time. Billy asked what is the nature of Ben's business but since I misplaced the last letter from you I couldn't tell him much. When he first came back from Oregon after his divorce he worked three months in electronics just before the big slump hit " Silicone Valley", got laid off and decided he wanted to make a change, which has not resulted in much until this newspaper job. He drives almost constantly as a sub where needed, and he loves it.

When you wrote once about your pregnant daughter-in-law, or Ben's (?), I told Fran they were taking her OFF insulin, and Fran thought that was very strange. They put Fran ON insulin for a month before Norman was born to keep the diabetes from causing problems with the baby. We have a friend Fran's age who is diabetic and had her second child live only 8 weeks because of the inperfections caused by the diabetes. I didn't want to alarm you at that time, altho Fran said I should call you and tell you to have the pregnant one get a second opinion. I told her that the Doctors would know best. Am glad to hear the baby was OK? Fran had studied onher own so much medical info = wanted to be a nurse (after Norman got to Jr. High she would have gone back to college) - however the MS has put her on the permanent disability list. She uses a wheel chair when she goes out where she has to walk, altho she manages around the house, in and out of the car & into restaurants with her cane as a rule. She is very optimistic about her condition - as long as she can still drive. She takes 2 therapy classes (one is swim/water therapy) at the Jr. College. Well, Billy came back from a show and went off to post office with my bills but without this letter, so I'll mail this tomorrow. Must write at least one more letter tonight. Let me hear more about Ben's work out here. I'll be gone to near the end of May

But of course would love to see you if you are out here with Ben after that. Billy-s kids are still in Boulder CO. and we'll have them part of the summer here. Love
